HIT CONFERENCE REPORT ON JAP EXCLUSION BILL

Postponement of Date When Effective Causes Sharp Criticism

Washington, May 9.—The proposal put forward by President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes for extending the date upon which Japanese exclusion becomes effective until March 1, 1925, appeared doomed to defeat today.

There was every indication that Japanese exclusion will be fixed for July 1 next, as planned by the framers of the new immigration bill. The house will probably agree to the president's request for the time extension but sentiment is more pronounced in the senate and leaders of both parties expect the senate will refuse to abide by the conference report dictated by Mr. Coolidge.

Rejection by either house will throw the bill back into conference for discussion.

Washington, May 9.—Members of both houses sharply assailed the conference report on the new immigration bill providing that Japanese exclusion shall not become effective until March 1, 1925, before which time the United States is to negotiate an immigration treaty with Japan.

Protests that the report contained new legislation barred under the rules were made by the solons, who objected to the fact that the report would give Japan a quota like other nations between July 1 next and March 1, 1925.

Senator Robinson, Democratic floor leader, held immigration question of great importance, adding that once the United States recognizes the right of Japan to determine by treaty the conditions under which its nationals shall come into this country, "we will be surrounded by similar pleas from other nations."

Senators Borah and Johnson joined in the attack. An assertion by Senator Johnson that the delay in Japanese exclusion until March 1, 1925, would let down the bars during that period to a flood of Asiatic immigration was promptly questioned by Senator Reed (Rep., Pa.), in charge of the measure. "We wanted to make exclusion definite and certain," Senator Reed declared.

The provision directing negotiation of an understanding canceling the "gentlemen's agreement" adopted at the suggestion of President Coolidge was assailed as an abrogation of the principle that immigration is a purely domestic question. Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee told the senate he had not altered the view he so frequently expressed during the league of nations fight, "that immigration is one of the subjects of all others on which no power could have anything to say."

MORGAN SILENT ON REPORT THAT HE HAS BIG GERMAN LOAN

New York, May 9.—Wall Street reports that J. P. Morgan was returning from Europe "with the $100,000,000 German reparations loan contract in his pocket," neither were affirmed nor denied by the financier when he arrived yesterday on the Homeric.

Accompanying Mrs. Morgan home after a two-months' sojourn abroad, the financier emerged from his customary reticence to discuss at length the subject with which his name had been linked prominently since the Dawes Committee recommended an allied loan of $200,000,000 as the foundation of its reparation plan.

Mr. Morgan declined to corroborate the Wall Street report. He would not discuss the possibility of subscribing the $75,000,000 share of the loan the Dawes Committee allotted to England and the $25,000,000 it was proposed to obtain from continental European nations.

"If I had the American $100,000,000 contract in my pocket, as they say, I could not possibly discuss its contents at this time, before I have had the opportunity to confer with my associates," he said.

Mrs. Morgan appeared in the background frowningly intent upon a bit of wool she was knitting.

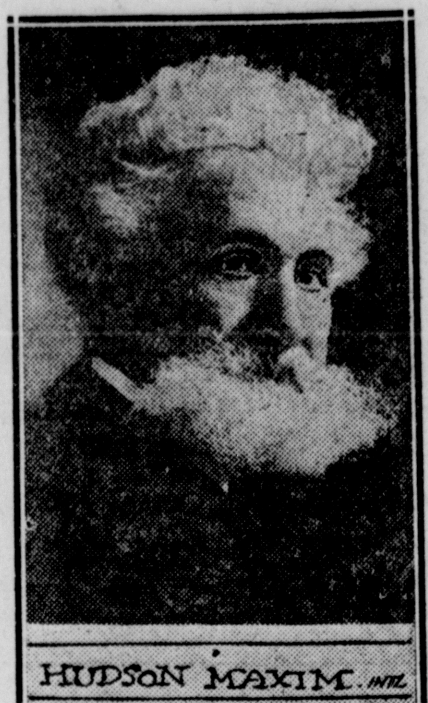

Mr. Morgan appeared to be struck with the stage fright to which he had been reported addicted in the presence of too many interviewers and dismissed the whole reparation loan subject with a sweeping gesture and a laugh and—"I have nothing what ever to say. I'd rather not discuss it at all. I can't, you see. My usefulness hinges upon silence at this time."

"We are bankers you know, and as such, reserve the right to consider a proposition among ourselves before making its terms public," Mr. Morgan continued. "I must be fair to my business associates. I haven't discussed this loan with them. I must be discreet."

Mr. Morgan admitted that since the Government was not to participate in floating the $100,000,000

HOSTILITIES AGAIN MENACING OLD WORLD

"I'D MAKE BEST RULER," DECLARES HUDSON MAXIM

Hudson Maxim, famous inventor, of New York, gallantly admits he'd make the best President "that could be scared up in the country," but if there is a possibility that he won't be called he would have a committee of experts examine all candidates, the candidate passing with the highest average to be President and the second to be vice-president, with members of the cabinet selected in the same manner.

MORE NAMES ARE DRAWN FOR JURY

An additional venire of twenty-seven names, drawn this week for appearance at the trial of the case of Clara Nickels, administratrix against Lincoln Funderburgh, next Tuesday, will report in addition to the regular petit jury panel, it is said. The new petit jury was ordered to report next Tuesday to hear the case and the additional venire was drawn in order to have a reserve of jurors should inability of the regular jurors to qualify or the challenges by opposing counsel, entirely exhaust the regular panel.

NEW JUDGE TO PRESIDE

Cincinnati, May 9.—Judge A. M. J. Cochran probably will preside over the hearing of Mal Daugherty's writ of habeas corpus tomorrow, it was announced, following request of Judge Smith Hickenlooper, who stated his appointment was made during Harry M. Daugherty's regime and he wished the court to escape criticism.

DEMOCRATS WILL MEET IN CAPITAL

Columbus, May 9.—The Democratic state central committee will meet here tomorrow to consider postponement of the Democratic state convention, set for May 14, until Aug. 19, after the national convention and the state primaries are over. Call for the committee meeting was issued on the heels of the action of the Republican state central committee in calling for a pre-primary nominating convention to be held May 20. The primary reason for the proposed postponement of the Democratic convention is the desire on the part of the Democratic leaders to avoid any charge of "hand-picking" candidates for Democratic nominations for state offices. The primaries will be held in August.

AMERICAN PLAYERS ROBBED
Paris, May 9.—Troubles of the American Olympic rugby team, increasing since its arrival here, were aggravated when the squad was relieved of 10,000 francs' worth of jewelry and currency, which was stolen from their clothing in the dressing rooms at the Colombes stadium, while players were on the field practicing.

EUROPE, AFRICA, AND ASIA SEE THREATS OF WAR

Dangerous Spread of Com- munist Strikes In Ruhr Is Reported

Fighting and threats of hostilities were reported from various parts of Europe, Asia and Africa today.

According to a report printed by the London Daily Express, both Russia and Roumania are making warlike preparations along the Russo-Roumanian frontier by massing troops. These nations have long engaged in a territorial dispute.

Fighting between French gendarmerie and Turks is again reported from the Syrian frontier, on the edge of the Syrian district under French mandate.

Spanish forces in Morocco have been engaged in a two day offensive against the Rif tribesmen in the Benihasen sector of the battlefield. The tribesmen's losses were put at 300.

Communists are active all over Germany. They have precipitated strikes of half a million men and fears are felt that, under the urging of Russia they may attempt to wage war against the existing order of things.

Berlin, May 9.—There has been a dangerous spread of communist strikes in the Ruhr, and Saxony during the past twenty-four hours it was estimated today that more than five hundred thousand men, mostly coal miners are idle.

Government officials fear that the Reds will openly attempt to seize control of the localities where the troubles prevail.

Communist agitators are active in the Ruhr and elsewhere.

London, May 9.—Further fighting between Turks and French along the Syrian frontier was reported in dispatches to the Daily Express today.

French artillery was ambushed and said to have sustained heavy casualties. Angora is massing Turkish troops along the Syrian border facing the French gendarmerie.

London, May 9.—Russia has begun concentrating troops along the Roumanian frontier, according to a report printed by the Daily Express today.

Roumania is said to be rushing soldiers to strategic border points.

The Russian are reported to be fortifying a line along the Dniester river. The populations of the district, where the military movements are under way are fleeing southward.

FIRE BREAKS OUT ON STEAMER AT SEA; NOW EXTINGUISHED

New York, May 9.—Fire which broke out on the Merchants' and Miners' Steamship Ontario, while the vessel was fog-bound, ten miles northeast of Block Island, early today, has been extinguished, according to a wireless from Captain Bond, and the vessel is proceeding under her own power to Boston.

The Ontario was bound from Baltimore to Boston. The first word that a fire had broken out on the steamer was flashed at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The sos was picked up by the East Hampton station of the Radio Corporation of America and the distress signal was broadcast.

The steamers Calvin Austin and Melville Dollar answered the call and rushed to the assistance of the Ontario.

An hour later Captain Bond sent another wireless stating that the crew of the Ontario had extinguished the fire and that the steamer was proceeding to her destination.

DEMOCRATIC - INSURGENT TAX BILL FACES ALMOST CERTAIN VETO NOW

Washington, May 9.—The new tax reduction bill, re-written by a Democratic-Insurgent coalition, faced increased prospects of a presidential veto today as it neared final enactment in the senate.

Supported by the Insurgent group, Democratic leaders wrote into the new revenue measure, nearly all their own tax theories, while recommendations of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon were abandoned with studied regularity. The regular Republican leaders were confronted with so one-sided a battle for administration tax policies that Senator Smoot of Utah, majority finance chief, finally served notice he would no longer oppose the minority amendments to the bill. Smoot's action was taken as a complete surrender on the part of administration leaders to the will of the Democratic-Insurgent coalition and as a new indication that President Coolidge plans

BISHOP WILL FIGHT HERESY CHARGES

BISHOP WILLIAM M. BROWN.

Bishop William Montgomery Brown, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of Galion, O., who retired ten years ago as Bishop of Arkansas, will be tried publicly by nine other Bishops in Cleveland, O., on May 27, on charges of heresy, growing out of his recent writings. He declares he expects to place the entire orthodox Christian religion on trial by demanding of all Bishops if they accept the entire Bible literally, adding that if they do they are hopelessly at odds with modern science. This battle between the fundamentalists and modernists is said to be the first heresy trial of a Bishop since the Protestant reformation.

XENIA GOES ON DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME-CLOCKS TO ADVANCE SUNDAY

Xenia is now in line with other cities in this section operating under daylight saving time.

An emergency ordinance making the new time effective at once was passed by the City Commission at its regular meeting Thursday night. In order to avoid confusion, however, the provisions of the ordinance will probably be adopted universally at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

SET CLOCKS UP SUNDAY MORNING

In order to prevent confusion in time, members of the City Commission, Friday signified their belief that watches and clocks in the city should be moved ahead Sunday morning at 2 o'clock. While officially and legally the city is on fast time, following the passing of an emergency ordinance by the City Commission Thursday evening, the plan of moving clocks ahead Sunday morning is suggested to avoid the possibility of two times being in operation, immediately due to the fact that many uninformed of the change would be going by slow time.

"Set your clocks ahead one hour when you retire Saturday evening and then forget about the change until next fall," is the advice which is being sent out.

Mayor George H. Hudson, who introduced an ordinance at a special meeting last week providing for daylight saving time observance in Xenia between the last Sunday in April and the last Sunday in September of each year, withdrew his ordinance and submitted the ordinance calling for an emergency action at the meeting Thursday night.

Under the original ordinance, if that had been passed Thursday night, the change would not have become effective, according to charter provisions, until thirty days after its passage. Anticipating this result, most people who favored the new time were preparing to move up their clocks at once. However, the introduction of the emergency ordinance makes the time effective immediately.

In order that everybody will advance to the new time at the same time this avoid confusion, City Manager S. O. Hale is advising that observance of the ordinance be withheld until Sunday morning. By moving the clocks and watches up Saturday night before retiring, Xenians will all begin the new week on daylight saving time.

Action of the commission was taken by a vote of four to one on the emergency measure, and is expected to meet with almost universal approval and popularity in the city. Xenia has not observed daylight saving time since 1922, when an ordinance passed by the commission that year was blocked from taking effect by the filing of referendum petitions.

The petitions required that people be permitted to vote on the question, which was submitted at a special election and defeated by the electorate. In again proposing the ordinance, after City Solicitor J. A. Pinney had ruled the referendum did not prevent passage of a similar ordinance, the commission felt that changing conditions had resulted in a change of heart on the time question.

Because there are more cities in this section than ever before operating on daylight saving time, and because at least two factories and a number of commercial institutions had already adopted the more daylight program, commissioners felt that the action this year will meet with almost universal popularity.

Banks and building and loans which voted to move up to daylight saving time last Monday, held off awaiting the vote of the commission, with the intention of adopting the new time, however, no matter which way the commission voted. The action of the commission simplifies the change.

All churches except First, Second U P Churches will begin their services on daylight saving time Sunday morning, according to announcement from pastors of the city. Schools, banks and business houses will begin operation on fast time Monday morning it was indicated Friday. First, Second U P churches will hold their Sunday Services May 11. Slow time but will observe the new time starting the following week.

An ordinance establishing a grade on Jefferson Street was also passed at Thursday night's meeting of the commission and represents the only business of importance taken up.

GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE COMPETITOR

Mansfield, O., May 9.—Rivalry among real estate men in Mansfield was laid aside when J. H. Mayberry's condition was such that physicians decided a transfusion of blood was necessary to save his life. Several real estate men of other firms offered their blood. After examining each, surgeons decided that the blood of C. N. Blackman was best suited for the transfusion.

Blackman gave a pint of blood to save the life of his competitor. Mayberry's condition is reported more favorable.

BELIEVE PLAN GIVEN SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT

Divorces Judicial Body From the League Of Nations

Washington, May 9.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge has administered a long time sleeping potion to the Harding-Hughes proposal that the United States adhere to the world court of justice set up by the League of Nations.

This was the well nigh unanimous opinion today of both Republicans and Democrats here following the presentation by Senator Lodge of a brand new world court proposal which would take the United States into a court entirely divorced from the league and modeled after the old Hague tribunal.

Whether the Lodge court has the support of President Coolidge was a matter of keen speculation today. The White House maintained silence.

There is reason to believe, however, that President Coolidge was acquainted with the outline of the Lodge plan before it presentation to the senate and those who favor it were quick to point out that the new proposal follows generally the ideas heretofore expressed by the president as to the kind of world court the United States should join.

President Coolidge has never warmly espoused the Harding-Hughes proposal that the United States adhere to the league court with reservations, although he has commended it on two occasions—in his first message to congress and in his recent New York speech.

In both instances, however, he has confined himself to merely recommending it to the "favorable consideration" of the senate and the country. He has consistently refrained from any effort to force action upon it.

Republican senators who have steadfastly opposed the Harding-Hughes proposal accepted the Lodge plan today as substitute for the Harding-Hughes plan and privately declared it meant a knockout blow for the latter.

Denied the support of Lodge and his associates in its powerful committee on foreign relations, it did not see how the league could possibly be ratified by the senate.

The Lodge plan was carefully drawn to meet all of the objections raised by the irreconcilables to the Hughes proposal. Not only would the Lodge court be entirely dissociated from any connection, however, remote, with the league, but it also would be limited to the class of American issues with which it could deal. The Monroe doctrine, American war debts and immigration issues would be specifically exempt from the court's jurisdiction thus preventing for instance, Japan taking the question of exclusion, or France taking the matter of her $4,000,000,000 debt into court.

While it is believed President Coolidge was aware of Senator Lodge's move before it was made, it was said today the new proposal came as a complete surprise to Secretary Hughes.

No action can be taken on either proposal in the short time remaining of the present session of the senate.

SIX DOOMED MEN BEG FOR MERCY AS DEATH COMES NEAR

Amite, La., May 9.—Like six wild animals, held within iron bars, half a dozen men frantically paced the floors of their death cells here today begging for whiskey, pleading for mercy and praying that some unseen hand will stay the hangman's noose which this afternoon will plunge them into eternity. They are the six Italians who were sentenced to die for the murder of Dallas Calmes, at Independence, La., during an attempted bank robbery three years ago.

Around the jail were state troops stationed there to see that no interference is made by members of the old "New Orleans" black hand organization or by countless others who have threatened "certain death" for officials after official, should the men be hanged. Forty special guards heavily armed, assisted the soldiers in making their death watch.

But this heavy guard meant nothing to the doomed men. They paid no heed to the tramping of the soldiers past their cells during the few brief hours that remained of their lives. They cried for liquor and begged for mercy and fell on their knees, praying that some power would offer a last minute intervention to save them from death. The Catholic priest made rounds and attempted to console them.

For a brief second or two they would stop and listen to his words of consolation only to again pace the floors of their cells and scream out loud for mercy. Stationed in one of the cells between his five comrades was Roy Leona, an outcast in this hour of death. The others cursed him, shook trembling fists in his direction and branded him as "the man responsible for it all."

Leona a few days ago, confessed to firing the shots which killed Calmes and took all the blame upon himself in an attempt to save his comrades. But it was too late. Several courts had heard the case and each one decreed the six men must die. They branded him as a "traitor" because he attempted to take his own life after listening to the vile epithets hurled at him by the other five men. They said he was not only responsible for their deaths but that he was not able to die like a man.

MOUNTAIN TRAGEDY COSTS LIVES OF SIX

Martinsburg, W. Va., May 9.—A mountain tragedy which cost the lives of William Miller, 38, his wife and their four small children, became known here today.

They were drowned last night in the flood waters of Back creek, while returning home. Whether the water swept their small car from the bridge or whether Miller missed the bridge in driving over the flooded stream probably never will be known.

One small boy, who had not accompanied his parents, is the sole survivor of the family.

BANDITS SHOOT CRIPPLE

Steuersville, O., May 9.—William Price, owner of a small store here, was shot by two highwaymen who entered his place. Covering Price with their guns, the robbers demanded his money. He lost both legs in a railroad accident several years ago.

BUSSES HIT ELECTRIC LINE

AUTO TAX HELD VALID BY COURT

Columbus, May 9.—The court of appeals held constitutional that section of the auto tax law which levies upon horsepower and weight of trucks. The decision reverses a ruling by Judge Kinkead of common pleas court made in the actions brought against Secretary of State Brown by the Politz Grocery and Baking company of Cincinnati and the Fisher Brothers company of Cleveland, to enjoin the collection of taxes under the law. According to the decision of the court of appeals, it is discretionary with the general assembly to classify trucks for taxation purposes according to their horsepower.

Secretary of State Brown today as head of the state auto registration department, is arranging for the collection of approximately $600,000 in auto license fees on trucks as a result of the decision of the Franklin County Appellate Court.

SENATE WITNESS MENTIONS HALLEY AND MANNINGTON

Washington, May 9.—M. P. Kraftmiller, a former associate of Howard Manington of Columbus, testified before the Daugherty committee that Prohibition Director J. E. Russell of Ohio was appointed upon the recommendation of Manington and "Mr. Halley."

Witness declared that Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, David R. Crissinger, federal reserve board governor, and George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to former President Harding, conferred with Manington at "the little green house on K street." Kraftmiller also testified that girls seeking positions frequently went to Manington's house and "some got jobs." For the most part they were women who had been employed at the Marion front porch headquarters, he said.

Fred A. Caskey, former Marietta lawyer, an associate of Manington, has been subpoenaed, it developed, but has refused to testify. Through Miss Mary Yeager, former stenographer, in Harry Daugherty's office, who was employed at Marion during the campaign, the committee learned that Jesse Smith had an office in the department of justice.

A. A. Grorud, former assistant attorney general of Montana, testified that the Republican national committee wanted to "smear" Senator Burton K. Wheeler and Senator Thomas F. Walsh and discredit the investigations they were conducting. Grorud said Blair Coan, who investigated Senator Wheeler in Montana, admitted this, adding that Coan never expected the indictment of Wheeler to "stick."

RAIL OPERATIONS NEARLY NORMAL IN T YEAR JUST PAST

New York, May 9.—Conditions affecting railway operations were more nearly normal in 1923 than in any year since 1917, it was declared in the annual report of the Southern Pacific Company for 1923 made public today.

The report mentions the following hopeful signs:

A volume of traffic close to the highest in the company's history was handled.

There were no major labor disturbances during the year.

Average compensations per employee decreased 2.8 per cent, saving $4,011,000.

Lower prices saved $3,819,000 and lower material costs $777,000.

On the other hand the report declared taxes increased $1,505,971 totaling $20,365,327 or approximately the amount paid to stockholders in dividends.

While the volume of traffic increased, the revenue failed to increase proportionately because of forced reduction in rates, account for a loss of $17,549,000.

On the whole, however, the report shows the company's return on its investment increased, being 4.81 per cent as compared with 4.29 in 1922 and 3.35 in 1921.

BITTER WORDS

Cynicism today is more likely to be found among the young people than amid the old. It is frequently the pose of those who with life before them, find that all is vanity and nothing is worth while. Therefore they abhor and defy convention, are ready to join any group that promises inflammation and revolt and, shouting the battle-cry of freedom, make all that looks like conservatism the target of the acute and poison-tipped barbs of their caustic irony.

The cynicism of the young is sadder than the expressed disillusionment of those who have lived long and seen much and are sorrowful. For youth is supposed to be the other name of all that is hopeful and joyous.

But, fortunately, the cynicism of youth seldom is more than skin deep and it usually does not live long. Of all the burdens and curses laid upon the world, of all the liabilities society must carry, the chronic grouches of those whom life has embittered are among the most onerous.

There is so much work to do that none has time to spare for the atabillious comment of the mere talkers, upon those who are steadfast in a task. A thoughtful, critical attention that in candor points out a fault, desiring to assist the performer, is a different matter from sheer abuse or ridicule of one who has started something.

How many useful things have been ridiculed to death, how many well-meaning persons who could have done a thing worth while have been swerved from the idea, because of a withering blast of sarcasm that came as they struggled to begin. A Keats writing poetry, Langley devising an airplane, a Palissy in quest of a potter's secret, must expect ridicule that may mean heart-break for the sensitive.

A sarcastic tongue may raise a laugh at the expense of the victim, but it is likely to make the speaker feared and hated.

One definition of a gentleman is that he is a person who avoids giving pain. If add to it the affirmation that he seeks to give pleasure, the definition is fairly complete. Nobody ever made himself popular in society or beloved in a home by the use of harsh and cruel speech.

HELP FOR GREECE

It is a highly picturesque proposal that Henry Morgenthau has made to the Greek Government. The former chairman of the Democratic Finance Committee says that he can raise $15,000,000 for Greek refugees within a year by exhibiting the famous Praxiteles statue of Hermes for an admission fee of a dollar. The authorities at first almost shed tears at the thought of sending the classic statue on such an errand, and then agreed to let it go.

The idea of making an old Greek god go to work for modern Greeks to lift them out of a slough of despond in statecraft and finance is novel and startling. Hermes, as messenger of the gods, was a far-traveler. Yet there is no record of a previous visit to the United States. This statue, discovered at Olympia in 1877, is the most beautiful extant representation of him, and it is the one work which assuredly came from the hand of Praxiteles. But there is one serious objection which is likely to be raised to this Olympian Ambassador. It is the baggage he brings. On one arm sits the figure of his baby brother, Dionysos, better known by his Roman name of Bacchus. Praxiteles had evidently represented Hermes as amusing the infant by dangling a bunch of grapes before his nose. Some will ask whether to exhibit the statue will not be an incentive to defiance of the Volstead act.

If Mr. Morgenthau can satisfy the conscientious qualms of his countrymen in this connection, no doubt the progress of Hermes from one art center to another will be lucrative. Otherwise, he will have to depend on more conservative financial processes, such as the loans which he is negotiating from banks, to care for the refugees and to stabilize Greek finances. However, the humorous aspects of the proposed quest of Hermes will not obscure the fact that Mr. Morgenthau is an international philanthropist of the first magnitude who deserves the gratitude of the host of the stricken folk that he has aided during the war and since.

LOOKS HOPEFUL FOR MEXICAN PEACEFULNESS

Ambassador Warren and Secretary of the Treasury Pani held a long conference at the National Palace, Mexico, following which the Ambassador said he had reason for believing the Mexican Government was about to reopen the loan negotiations with the New York bankers upon a new basis. It was indicated that a committee representing the American financiers may visit Mexico for the purpose of conducting the contemplated negotiations.

Questioned regarding the Wolvin Line project, Mr. Warren replied that Captain Wolvin was preparing concrete proposals for submission to the Mexican Treasury Department, which would include a loan feature. The Ambassador expressed hope for the success of these proposals.

Referring to the fact that difficulties had been encountered in arranging Mexican collateral satisfactory to American investors, the Ambassador expressed the opinion that such collateral was now available. He declined to disclose its nature, saying that the point was one for the interested parties to make public when the proper time comes.

The United States and Mexican Government have agreed upon arbiters for the General Claims Commission, it has been announced at the American Embassy. Ambassador Warren said the identity of the arbiters would be disclosed when they shall have accepted the posts offered them. The American and Mexican members of the two commissions will be appointed in the very near future in order that the long task of adjudicating the claims may begin.

Mrs. W.: "My Potato Pancakes (three eggs): Grate six medium-sized, raw, pared potatoes after soaking the potatoes in cold water for several hours. Drain the grated potato then add to it three beaten eggs, a pinch of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of flour and a little milk. Bake on a hot griddle like any pancakes."

Mrs. C.: "Two-Egg Potato Pancakes: Pare six medium-sized potatoes and grate them on a fine grater; add two and one-half cups of sweet milk, one teaspoon of salt, two slightly-beaten eggs, and about one and one-half cups of flour—or enough to make a thin batter. I use no baking powder or soda in them. Fry on a hot griddle with lots of lard or drippings."

Mrs. C. W.: "Boiled Potato Pancakes: Boil six medium-sized white potatoes in salted water and when done mash and set aside to cool. Then add to them three well-beaten eggs, one pint of sweet milk, and two teaspoons of baking powder mixed and sifted with enough flour to make a thin pancake batter. Fry a golden brown on both sides, like any pancakes."

Mrs. J.: "Eggless Potato Pancakes: Pare and grate about six large potatoes and add to them one cup of sweet milk, three or four tablespoons of flour and salt to suit taste. Care must be taken not to use too much flour as that makes them tough. Fry in butter."

J. O.: "My Potato Pancakes: Pare and grate four or five large, raw potatoes then add to them the beaten yolks of two eggs, one tablespoon of flour and, last, fold in the two egg-whites stiffly beaten. Fry in bacon fat."

Mrs. C.: "Potato Pancakes: Always use old potatoes for this dish. Grate six large ones, after paring and wash-

Today's Talks

LIKE A TOLD STORY

There is something of sadness about the ending of a delightful book in which have lived life, art, beauty, instruction and entertainment.

But only for a brief moment is the regret of ending felt—for immediately there is aroused a desire to make all that has been read a real part of the intricate garment of experience.

Nothing really ends. Nothing stands still. All is change. Today is not like yesterday, but a continuation in another form.

The outpouring of one heart to another is not an emptying, but a refilling. The mind is like the gills of a fish taking in and letting out the waters that refresh and give life and make it worth all the pains, sorrows, disappointments that form the substance out of which rise all our joys.

Like a told story is experience—making us strong when we are weakest and giving us faith when our faith seems most shattered.

Even after I have read a book that has been of great inspiration, I like to keep it around, very near to me.

The tiny sprout, breaking the earth and reaching up for a touch of the sun that it may rise to maturity and final beauty, tells a story. But after that story is told, there remains the gift of its loveliness and perfume. Every time you think, you help to tell a story, to yourself and to the world.

And what we are here for is to pick up, to shoulder, and carry on.

THE KINDLER WORLD

When the fish begin to bite
And the stream begins to run,
And the clouds are fleecy white
In the glory of the sun,
Then another world than ours
Seems to beckon me away,
Where the birds and trees and Flowers
Live and laugh and sing and pray.

This old world wherein we dwell
And go tolling through the years,
Has so much of pain to tell
With its oft repeated tears,
And so much of care and grief,
That another world was made
For the weary soul's relief,
Filled with sunshine and with shade.

There the people are the trees,
And the butterflies a-wing,
And the golden coated bees
And the birds that sweetly sing;
And some dreamy afternoon
One may hear out there alone,
If his soul is but in tune,
Language sweeter than his own.

They will have no shame to tell
As he lies out there and dreams,
They have nothing they would sell
And they'll talk no sordid schemes,
But the marvel of the clod
They will everywhere display;
Down the avenues of God
They will lead his soul away.

Covington, Ky., May 9.—That Congressman John W. Langley, on trial on a charge of having conspired to defraud the government in whiskey transactions will not take the witness stand in his own defense was indicated today. Counsel for the defense intimated that they will rely on testimony of others.

A large number of character witnesses for Langley, headed by Governor W. J. Fields, of Kentucky and Congressman Rouse and Johnson of Kentucky are expected to be called during the day.

The government rested its case this morning. The defense expects to prove through witnesses that the serial number of the permit which 1400 cases of liquor were removed from the Lawrenceburg, Ky., warehouse had been altered.

It is thought that this testimony will only be for the credit of Albert Slater, formerly in the prohibition directors office at Philadelphia. Slater and Milton Lipschutz are co-defendants of Langley.

POISONED WIENERS ARE FATAL TO BOY; OTHERS MAY DIE

Cleveland, O., May 9.—Joe Maurer, 11, is dead, his father, two brothers and a sister are in a hospital here today, the result, physicians say, of eating poisoned wieners at dinner last night.

The wieners were purchased and cooked by Josephine Maurer, 23, a daughter. She did not eat of them, and thus escaped the fate of other members of the family.

Officials of East Cleveland, the suburb in which the Maurers reside, had seized the remaining supply of wieners in the store in which they were purchased, to determine whether all the stock was contaminated.

FUNERAL CAR AND HONEYMOON AUTO COLLIDE IN EAST

Hammon, N. J., May 9.—An automobile carrying seven Philadelphians to the funeral of a business man collided near this town with the car of a Reading bride and bridegroom, returning from Atlantic City. Three of the Philadelphians were injured. The newly weds escaped unhurt.

The driver of the Philadelphia machine was John Manselne, West Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rolland were the honeymooners.

Witnesses declared Rolland tried to pass an automobile, going over to the left side of the road. To avoid him Manselne swerved his car into the ditch, the machine striking a tree.

Manselne's hands were cut deeply, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Amelia Manselne, of this city, and his sister, Miss Antoinette Manselne were cut and bruised.

EAST END NEWS

This is Miss East High, so named because she has been chosen by her classmates as the most popular young lady in East High School.

Miss East High is actually Miss Blonetta J. ... a member of the freshman class, and of the East High girls basketball team, who received the largest number of votes in a contest recently conducted by the school. Miss Everett polled 5,060 votes, while Miss Martha Ann Corbin, a junior, was second and Miss Jettie Harris, a sophomore, was third.

The contest was initiated by Miss Mary F. Relaford, advertising manager of the "Alpha", senior class annual publication at East High and was announced two weeks ago. The senior class did not have a representative in the contest. Votes were given the candidates and were sold for one cent each.

The contest aroused considerable interest and friendly rivalry, especially among the students. The contest closed May 2, when votes were counted. Each candidate had a representative present at the count. Miss Amanda Porter was the representative of Miss Harris, Miss Catherine McKnight for Miss Corbin and Miss Relaford for Miss Everett.

again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twists and swellings they used to have. I bend way over to the floor. I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Everything depends on blood-strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red-cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-cleanser, blood-builder, system strengthener, nerve invigorator. It stops skin eruptions, too, pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema. It builds up run-down, tired men and women, beautifies complexions, makes the flesh firmer. Start S. S. S. today. It is sold at all good drug stores. The larger size is more economical.

CEMENT COMPANY WILL ERECT $2,500,000 PLANT AT NEW OSBORN IS ANNOUNCEMENT

The Southwestern Portland Cement Company is preparing to erect a $2,500,000 plant at New Osborn, opposite the Big Four railroad station. It is announced. Preliminary work on the 300-acre site began May 1. The plant will have a capacity of 6,000 barrels a day.

The New Osborn plant will be the largest of three plants controlled by the same company. The plant owned by the same company at El Paso, Texas, has a capacity of 3,000 barrels a day and a plant at Victorville, Calif., has a capacity of 5,000 barrels.

The plant was located at New Osborn after an exhaustive survey of that and many other localities and after three chemists on the ground since November, had reported rock formations there suitable for cement manufacture, according to Carl Leonhardt, Los Angeles, president of the company. Laboratory facilities of the University of Dayton were placed at the disposal of the chemists in making their geological deductions, it is said.

Mr. Leonhardt, has been in Dayton three months supervising plans for the construction of the plant. O. J. Blinford, Secretary of the company, is now living at Dayton and will act as Dayton representative of the concern. Cement manufacture by the company at its other plants are known as "El Toro" and "Victor," but no trade name has been adopted for the Greene County product.

The company is said to have the lowest capitalization of any cement company in the United States, has no bonded indebtedness and no stock for sale. It is doing its own construction work, using concrete for the most part. The factory building will be of fire-proof construction throughout.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

BUDGET SYSTEM HAS REPLACED THIS

WITH THIS

The modern budget system has given executives time for constructive thought.

Before the budget system came in, the average executive was so swamped with the minor details of his business that he had very little time for anything else.

The budget system changed this. Now an executive makes out a budget. Each department head has authority to spend so much money for certain things. The only time he needs to approach the executive for an O. K. is when something unusual turns up.

In every highly successful business the executive must have foresight and ability. The budget system gives him a chance to use his foresight and ability.

RADIO TO CHANGE SOCIETY IS BELIEF

Madison, Wis. May 9—Radio communication is destined to change present social institutions as profoundly as have the motion picture and automobile, to hold the same place for the boy of tomorrow as the Arabian Nights for the boy of yesterday, Prof. W. H. Lighty, of the University of Wisconsin, said today at the annual convention of the National University Extension Association.

Prof. Lighty declared that radio is certain to take a leading role in extension work of universities, but added that the time when radio courses will be effective will not come until a definite program for radio broadcasting is developed.

Mr. Lighty expressed opposition to licenses for the operation of radio sets, and also proposed taxes upon radio apparatus.

FREDDIE TO PLACE WAR RESPONSIBILITY

Berlin, May 9—Former Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm soon will add his voice to the chorus, "Germany not guilty" of the war. This chorus is increasing steadily in volume in Germany as agitation grows for the denunciation of that paragraph in the treaty of Versailles.

The former Crown Prince is writing a book on the subject of responsibilities for and causes of the war. The

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also to soothe the red-rough or chapped hands and face. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

The report printed in the Communist organ, Rote Fahne, that the former Crown Prince has arrived at Halle to participate next Sunday in the gigantic Nationalist demonstration there, is untrue.

Universal Service called the Prince today on the telephone at his farm in Silesia and he said: "It is utter nonsense."

Let Kellogg's Bran free your children from that dangerous disease --- constipation

Children are subject to constipation. In the excitement of play, they neglect themselves and foster this dread disease. More than forty other diseases can be traced to constipation. Don't delay. Begin at once to cleanse their systems of the dangerous poisons.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps the intestine clean—and purifies it. It drives out the poisons which undermine your children's health. It makes the bowels function regularly and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to bring results if eaten regularly, or your grocer will return your money. It is guaranteed because it is ALL bran! Nothing but ALL Bran can be 100 per cent effective. Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors everywhere—they know from experience that it brings results. Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonsful daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. They will like its wonderful, nut-like flavor—so different from common brans which are most unpalatable.

As a cereal, with milk or cream, they will enjoy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in delicious muffins, bread, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

But start them eating Kellogg's Bran today. Start every member of your family eating it. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. Ask for it at your restaurant. It is sold by all grocers.

Easy-To-Find Opportunities Among Easy-To-Use Ads

It isn't as though the offers in the A-B-C Classified Section were jumbled together without rhyme or reason. If that were the case, we wouldn't have any chance to call this the service section.

It's the scrupulous care with which the different kinds of offers are catalogued that makes this section the most valuable helper you can call upon.

It takes about two seconds for you to comprehend the "layout" of the classified ads-and only about two more seconds to find any opportunity that interests you.

And that's the whole story in a nutshell!

That's why this is the service section-and why you should regard reading it and heeding it as a daily duty!

ATHELETICS TO OPEN YEAR IN XENIA SUNDAY

The East Side Athletics will cavort around the festive celebration of prying off a seasonal baseball lid at Dickerson baseball enclosure Sunday, the C. A. C. Club of Springfield furnishing the opposition for the ritual.

Manager Bill Rickman of the east side outfit says his pastimers are primed for the annual opening set-to and that indications are that the team is in for an even more glorious season than marked the records of that club last year.

Carl Lewis, the pool shark, will be in the box for the local performers and will try to put as much English on the leather as he does on the ivory on the green baize. This lad is diminutive in size but by deft maneuvering of the fingers, he can make the horseshoe do tricks.

Ewing will probably be behind the bat and the Athletics have also bargained for the services of Ace Jones, the Cedarville flash and the Carter brothers, Forest and Henry, of New Burlington, former Kingman High School stars. Cunningham will be at first base, Anderson will play second, Jones will be at the short field and F. Carter will take care of the hot corner. In the gardens will be Porter, Dickey and Harris with Hudson, Washington and H. Carter in reserve.

Merritt and Mahoney will form the battery for the visitors, who are highly rated. The game will get under way at 2:30 o'clock with Cubert Lindsay, veteran arbitrator, handling the indicator. An admission price of thirty-five cents will be charged and the management is looking for a big opening day crowd.

BASEBALL WILL REIGN SUPREME OVER WEEK-END

Plenty of week-end baseball is promised to whet the appetites of local followers of the national pastime.

Coach Jerry Katherman's Capitol University tossers arrived Friday for a two-day engagement with Greene County collegiate nines, taking on Wilberforce at Wilberforce and Antioch, at Yellow Springs in the two encounters.

Coach Earl Burner's Central High performers take their first real trip Saturday when they go to Piqua to struggle with the Piqua High nine, after the most strenuous week of conditioning they have put in to date.

The Xenia Reserves, Xenia White Sox and East Side Athletics will all be busy at their respective parks Sunday. The Reserves will play the Post Town Indians at Washington Park, the White Sox will play the University of Dayton Preps at the old Reserve Park, Cincinnati Avenue and the Athletics will meet the C. A. C. team from Springfield at the Dickerson enclosure.

All games will start at 2:30 o'clock daylight savings time.

LEWIS KNOCKED DOWN IN MATCH

Boston, May 9-Strangler Lewis, heavyweight wrestling champ, received the award over Stanley Stasiak, Polish champ on a foul when the latter knocked out Lewis last night during the contest with a blow on the jaw.

Lewis declared himself unable to continue and Referee Sam Avery of St. Joseph, Mo., awarded the champion, the match.

Stasiak became enraged when Lewis used various strangle holds. The champion was warned several times by the referee. When Lewis again tried to apply the holds, Stasiak dropped him with a blow to the jaw.

WILL HOLD FIELD DAY ON JUNE 12 IN DAYTON, OHIO

The Miami Valley Guernsey Breeders' Association, consisting of Greene and Montgomery Counties, will hold a field day June 12, at the Dayton Fair Grounds, with Field Secretary Barlow and Professor McKelip, on the program, it has been announced by County Agents Ford S. Prince.

The Ohio Guernsey four-year-old, Norman's Missaukee Red Rose, owned by Chas. H. Knight, of Akron, has recently completed a world's record of 17,500 pounds of milk and 902 pounds of butter-fat. Another Ohio cow to enter the National class leader list is Janet of Prospect Hill, owned by Mrs. Alice R. G. Dalbey, of Granville. This cow produced 18,537.7 pounds of milk and 830 pounds of butter-fat in class A A. Both records were conducted officially but neither as yet have been verified by the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

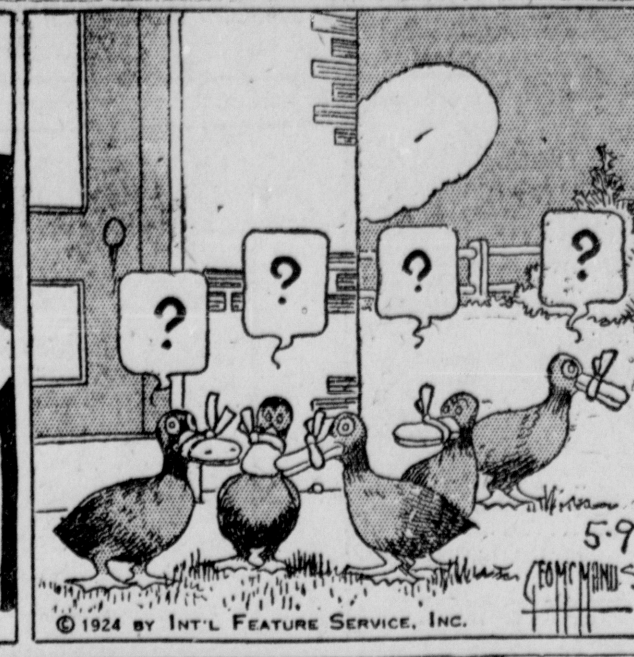

At the recent Annual Meeting, held in Wooster, there was in attendance 75 persons from widely scattered sections of the state. The present officers are Senator Chester C. Bitt, Cleveland, President; Prof. C. T. Conklin, Columbus, First Vice-President; Mgr. N. H. Hill, of Halford Farms, Chagrin Falls, Second Vice-President and Fred W. Floding, Leetonia, Secretary-Treasurer. Other directors are Wm. Erf, Jr., Bellevue; C. M. McConnell, West Salem; Roy B. Spencer, Chardon; E. S. Burke, Jr., Chagrin Falls and John V. Hang, of Canton.

The association has incorporated under the new cooperative law enacted at the last session of the legislative and it is carrying out a program of work which has been carefully planned. The Guernsey breeders of Ohio have the distinction of being the first breed association in America to adopt a Code of Ethics and to set itself to the task of educating the breeders of the state.

In his address at the Annual meeting of the Ohio association, Karl B. Musser, secretary of the American Guernsey Cattle Club, said that while there were no phenomenal records under way in the United States; there are 600 cows on the Advanced Registry watch list. But that he inferred that there are 600 cows in the country at the present time which are making more than ordinary records. He said that for every cow on official test, the national association is spending $7.00 for this extra supervision while the nearest approach to this by any other breed association is $1.50. The result is that no one questions the authenticity of Guernsey records.

Prof. C. T. Conklin also addressed the meeting, taking as his subject the showing of cattle at our State

BRINGING UP FATHER

Fair and on a circuit of the county fairs. No state fair offers greater inducements, he said, than our own and since these fairs are the show window for the cattle men of the state, Guernsey breeders cannot afford to overlook them.

The association is managing three sales under its clean sales policy this summer, at Canfield, on May 22nd, at Wooster, on June 4th, and at Uniontown, on June 5th.

TO CONDUCT EXAM FOR CITY TEACHERS

Applications will also close then for the position of pattern maker at McCook Field, at a salary of $1 to $1.15 an hour.

THE HALF-TIME WIFE By VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY.

SUZANNE ATWOOD, the young bride of GEOFFREY ATWOOD, a prominent business man, is faced by the fact that his secretary,

LINDA VALE, is trying to come between them. Angry because Geoffrey has been seen with Mrs. Vale when she thought him out of town, Suzanne determines to flirt with DUNCAN HALE, a young army officer to whom she was once engaged, although she is devoted to Geoffrey and to his two nephews, DICK and LARRY LEIGH.

XXII—DOMESTIC WAREFARE.

SUZANNE moped about the house the next morning, trying to make herself take up her duties as usual and forget her quarrel with Geoffrey.

"He ought to explain to me; he owes that to me," she kept reminding herself.

self, yet if Geoffrey had been there she would have run to him and begged him to forgive her for being cross with him. She thought of going to his office, but remembering that Mrs. Vale would be there, did not go.

She was sitting in the sun parlor, trying to fix her mind on a costume ball that she was to attend, when a step behind her caught her attention.

"It's just me," said Dick Leigh's voice. "Don't jump; is it so surprising for me to be at home?"

"Yes, it is, with exams just ahead of you; you ought to be back at college," she told him, trying to be severe.

"I know it, but I had to come home."

"Oh Dick, you're not in trouble?"

"No—that is, it isn't trouble about me. But it's Lolita. I haven't heard from her for a week, and I'm worried. Oh, I wouldn't have come just for that, Suzanne; they're having an epidemic of scarlet fever at school, and I ducked out just ahead of the order to quarantine everyone."

Thought you'd rather have me at home than panned up there. Now, you would, wouldn't you?" He bent over and laid his cheek against hers.

"Yes, of course. You'll have to explain to Geoff, though; he may think that you should have stayed." She caught her breath sharply; she could not even mention Geoff casually and remain unmoved.

"Guess I'll saunter down to the office this morning and do it; then perhaps I can get Lolita for luncheon," he answered. "I'll certainly have to see Geoff first, though—haven't got any money."

"Oh, I can let you have some," she exclaimed, then stopped short, remembering that she had written a check the day before that would take the last of the money that she had in the bank. It had been for a caterer's bill, and should have come out of the house-keeping money.

but that account was all drawn out too. And Mrs. Vale had not sent her the checks to cover the two amounts.

"I can't do it after all, Dickie," she told him. "I've all but overdrawn my account as it is. So I guess you'll have to go to Geoff. Only perhaps—well, he's arranged to have Mrs. Vale handle all that sort of thing for him, so maybe you'd better go straight to her."

"Not I—I hate the female!" he replied vehemently. "She told me once that she'd like to be a mother to me—gosh! She even kissed me. If Geoff's too busy to write me a check once a month he can get me another guardian. I'll tell him so."

Suzanne sighed, wishing that she could follow the boy's example. She was still sitting in the sun parlor when the telephone rang, and she was informed that Mr. Atwood wished to speak to her. A moment's delay, and Geoff's voice came to her over the wire.

"Suzanne? Honey, some friends of mine from out of town are here—important clients. I'm taking them to luncheon at the Seward Club; will you meet us there at one?"

Suzanne drew a long breath. Evidently it was a society wife that he wanted now, not a business one!

"Why don't you ask Mrs. Vale to go?" she asked, trying to keep her voice as suave as his.

"Suzanne! This is no time to joke. I shall expect you to meet me at the club at one!"

"Geoff, I can't!" But he had hung up the receiver. She rose angrily. Certainly she wouldn't go. Then suddenly she remembered that this was Thursday—the day of Mrs. Haynes' luncheon for the patronesses of the charity ball. She had promised to go.

She picked up the phone again, asked for Geoff and got Mrs. Vale, who assured her that she would take the message.

"Very well," Suzanne's voice was crisp. "Please tell my husband that I have a previous engagement for luncheon this noon." She told Mrs. Vale what it was, rejoicing in its importance—Geoff couldn't question that! But it was hard not to cry, as she went upstairs to dress.

Tomorrow—Running the Gauntlet.
